In Steiner Schools we have the task of teaching children to be both citizens of our world and also innovative, self-motivated, free thinking people. To achieve this we employ an experiential approach to science teaching called Goethean phenomenology where the experience of the student is used as the basis for understanding." Peter Glasby has been teaching Natural Sciences, Outdoor Education, and Exploring Spirituality at the Mt Barker Waldorf School since 1984, when he moved to South Australia from Switzerland where he had been working as a research biologist. Peter Glasby has been working with the content of the School of Spiritual Science, as a member, since 1983. No cost, a Parent Curriculum Initiative	"The Significance of External Applications in Maintaining a Healthy Etheric Body for Children Experiencing Anxiety, Social Withdrawal & Hyperactivity" Presenter: Dr Tessa Therkleson Date: Tuesday 17th August 7.30 to 9.00 pm Venue: Eurythmy Room This workshop was presented at the Kolisko Conference in July 2010. Tessa is an anthroposophical nurse, who recently completed her PhD and has a broad interest in research and education in relation to external applications. Cost: $5.00 No enrolment necessary
